LONG ILLNESS

Ends In Death Of Will H. Mc-
Gehee, At Clarksville.

Will Harris McGehee, son of T. A. McGehee of the mercantile firm of McGehee Bros., Clarksville, died Thursday, after a long illness, aged 27 years. He was a native of Louisa county, Va., and came to Clarksville with his parents in infancy. He leaves a wife, who was before her marriage Miss Bertie Dallar, of Princeton, Ky. The deceased was a cousin of Mr. H. C. McGehee, of Gracey.

BURIED IN DERRIS

Nathan Shannon Fatally Injured at Clarksville.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 29.—A fatal accident took place about 9 o'clock this morning in connection with tearing down of a wall of one of the old Stewart buildings. The wall was seen to be in a shaky condition and ready to fall, when some one shouted a warning to the men. Three of the men jumped to safety, but the fourth, Nathan Shannon, was less fortunate, as one portion of the wall, falling in a different direction from the other, buried him under a mass of brick and mortar. A gang of men worked heroically to remove the mass from the unfortunate man.

CUBA ON THE VERGE OF WAR.

UNCLE SAM AT KEY WEST.

Our State Department Looks for a Long and Tedious Campaign.

Washington, May 31.—The situation in Cuba is growing more critical daily. The insurgents are burning large quantities of cane, as well as houses. For the most part it is foreign property that is suffering. The people of Guantanamo and the outlying districts are greatly alarmed and are demanding more efficient protection.

From their knowledge of the campaign methods of the rebel leaders, state department officials do not anticipate anything in the nature of a general engagement, but believe that the rebels will avoid any such test of strength with their raw and half-armed levies. Instead they are expected to break up into small squads and take to the bush, which, of course, would be most unwelcome to foreign interests as increasing the danger to isolated American-owned plantations, exposed to the raids of irresponsible guerillas.

Eight Men-o-war of the Atlantic squadron are at Key West anchored in the harbor. They form part of the fleet dispatched here to await eventualities in Cuba.

The vessels which arrived this morning were the Washington, Georgia, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Minnesota. The latter is the flagship of Rear Admiral N. R. Usher, commander of the provisional fleet, who arrived here last night overland.

Confederate Day.

The Confederate decoration day, June 3, will be observed next Monday with a dinner to be served at Virginia Park, after which the graves of Confederate Soldiers buried in Riverside cemetery will be decorated with flowers.

WATERLOO FOR THE ANTIS

Administration Made Clean Sweep In The State Convention.

EVEN BEAT UREY WOODSON.

Ollie James Allowed a Place on The Delegation Only Concession.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—With the State administration victorious at every point from the election of James B. McCreary as temporary chairman to the selection of J. C. C. Mayo as national committeeman and Rufus W. Vansant as chairman of the Central and executive committees, the Democratic convention adjourned at 1 o'clock this morning.

Ollie James was defeated at every stage of the game. It was demonstrated again and again that his claims of strength were not founded on fact, but were made only for the effect that they would have on uninstructed delegates. The only point gained by Mr. James was in the matter of obtaining instructions for Champ Clark for President. But on this point there was practically no difference of opinion in the State, nearly every county being for Champ Clark.

The most dramatic incident of the convention was the unprecedented action of Ollie James in placing himself in nomination for temporary chairman.

It took the delegates and many of Mr. James' own followers by complete surprise.

Urey Woodson Defeated.

But it was not James alone that went down to defeat. With him went Urey Woodson, for sixteen years a member of the Democratic National Committee from Kentucky. Having disposed of Ollie James at the afternoon session, the Administration took Mr. Woodson's scalp at the night session and elected John C. C. Mayo, the mountain millionaire, one of the most powerful of the organization leaders, to succeed him.

Then, determined to sweep the platter clean, the Administration made John M. Stevenson, of Winchester, the next victim. Mr. Stevenson was easy prey. Indeed, his name was not mentioned in the convention and Rufus Vansant, of Ashland, was elected chairman without a dissenting vote.

Thus did the Administration triumph over its opponents. With one telling blow it put the opposition to route and left the leaders, dazed and bewildered. It was an old-time organization victory won under the leadership of Gov. McCreary, Percy Haly, John C. C. Mayo, Justus Goebel, J. C. W. Beckham, Tom Rhea, Johnson Camden and Judge Allie W. Young.

Arrayed against the organization were Ollie James, Henry Watterson, Mayor Head, A. O. Stanley, Campbell Cantrill, Swager Sherley, John H. Whallen, Frank McGrath and Urey Woodson.

The Delegates.

At Large.—Gov. James B. McCreary, Ollie M. James, J. C. W. Beckham, John C. Mayo, Alternates Allie M. Young, Justus Goebel, A. O. Stanley and Ben Johnson.

First District—Dr. Fred Larue and Allison Tyler.

Second District—P. B. Miller and Lavega Clements.

Third District—J. H. Durham and W. L. Porter.

Fourth District—Morris H. Beard and J. L. Druein.

Fifth District—W. B. Haldeman, John Whallen and W. O. Head.

Sixth District—M. L. Downs and T. C. Terrell.

KILTIES BAND

For The Aviation Circus At Evansville.

The Evansville Courier announces it has secured the famous "Kilties," Canada's greatest concert band, for the Aviation Circus, June 6, 7 and 8. The "Kilties" are the greatest Scottish band in the world, and the pride of all Canada. They are just returning from a triumphal tour of the world.

Electrify the Pupils.
They are using electricity in primary school education in Stockholm. Just how it is used does not appear, but we are told that the "classroom is subjected to electricity." And records are being kept to ascertain whether the electrically trained youngsters acquire the three Rs with greater precision and dispatch than those that are being brought up on sunlight, common sense and the rod.

BEASTS ARE GOOD SWIMMERS

Rhinoceros, Elephant, Elk, Reindeer and Most Other Animals Better Than Man in Water.

Nearly all animals are better swimmers than man and take to the water naturally, while he has to learn to propel himself. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads. The elk and reindeer are first class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface. But of all swimmers of all climates the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it be remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. There are bears that can swim from 40 to 50 kilometers without great effort.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim, and took it with him in a row-boat to the center of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it neared the shallow water near the land. It is said that even many non-aquatic birds will swim like ducks if an attempt be made to drown them.—Harper's Weekly.

HOME A CENTER OF SERVICE

Old Time Ideals of Hospitality Should Be Maintained So Far as Possible.

The ideal home is not self-centered. It is a center of service. So far as circumstances will permit, the old-time ideals of hospitality should be maintained. In wise and uplifting ways the home should be shared. It is a good practice to invite young people who are away from home. It relieves loneliness, discouragement and temptation. Remember it is—
Not what we give, but what we share. The gift without the giver is bare.

The home is the bulwark of civilization. Within the extreme limits of wealth and poverty a home may be good or bad, irrespective of social position or property. Our homes are what we choose to make them. It is a question of what we admit and what we keep out of them. Our best selves and the best we have to give should go into the home life, and to a large degree determines the character of children. The home tends to make us better or worse. Thus the home becomes the chief factor in determining the character of the community and the nation. The trend of our times is away from the home into the countless amusements and interests of modern life.

Where a Bath Comes High.
"There are some things about a trip through Holland that you recall when stopping at one of our modern hotels," says an American recently returned from a trip abroad. "In many places in that interesting country the hotels are run as they have been for ages and candles still are the vogue."

"Rooms with bath are unknown. Instead they charge you about 40 cents in American money for a bath. You ask for the privilege of using the tub and they send up a maid who brings with her towels and soap if you have none, for you are supposed to carry both with you. She fills the tub, has it about the right degree of heat, and the faucets are locked, so that if you want any more water you don't get it; also there is no chance for your traveling pal sneaking in and enjoying a bath without coming through with another 40 cents."

"You are provided with one candle a day and charged for it. The lights go out early in the night, and if you happen to get up or want to read you have to use a candle. This does not apply to Amsterdam, which is a metropolitan city."

Telephones in Indian Homes.
It is a far cry from the old prairie signal fire of the red man to the electric transmitter, but many of the rough homes of the Osage Indians in Oklahoma are equipped with telephones, and the owners enjoy their use immensely.

A telephone agent enlisted the interest of Chief White Eagle in the strange little box and wires, and soon the warrior's home was connected with "central." It was some time before his fellow tribesmen gave approval to his recourse to the white man's invention, but finally, perceiving the time, travel and trouble saved him by its use, they filed solemnly into the telephone headquarters with orders for installation in their own homes.

Not Quite Practical.
"She is very liberal in her charities," said one woman.
"Yes," answered the other; "liberal, but not always practical. For instance, she wanted to send alarm clocks to Africa to aid sufferers from the sleeping sickness."

SCRAPBOOK NOW LITTLE USED

Was Once Interesting and Instructive Diversion for Youngsters of Nursery.

Scrapbook collecting is a form of nursery diversion that has fewer adherents than it once had. Time was when the youngsters devoted much time and thought to gathering material with which to fill the books, and who would succeed in having the best collection was a matter of heated competition. It seems a pity that this form of collecting should have dropped into disfavor, for if rightly directed it may be the means of developing traits in the child that would otherwise lie dormant.

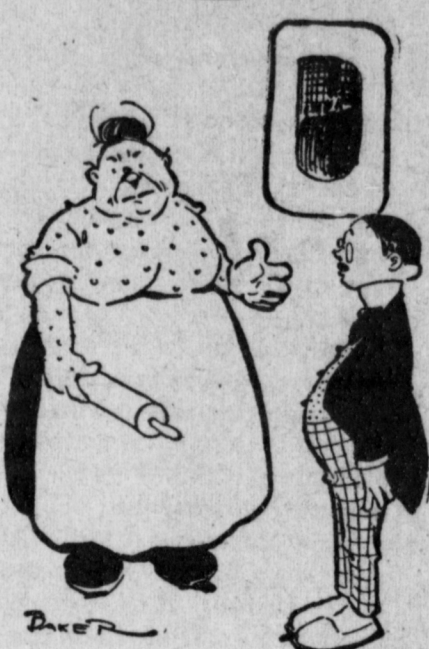

In the selection of clippings for a child's scrapbook a large proportion of space should be allotted to verse.

The attention of the child will thus be directed to the many beautiful ideas that are clothed in musical measure.

Numbers of grown folks can say that many a noble sentiment has become fixed in their thoughts which would perhaps have escaped them had it not been presented in the beautiful garb of poetry and had not the making of scrapbooks been one of the delights of their childhood.

Anecdotes and information about birds, domestic pets and other animals will help to teach the little folks interest in any kindness to the little furred and feathered people.

HER REASON

E. Z.—Why, Bedalia, I am sorry you think you have to leave. Don't you like us?

Bedalia—It ain't that I don't like you, sor, but me gentlemen friends don't like the brand of cigars you smoke.

CONSCIENCE ABOVE FAMILY.

"A man's wife and children have a claim on him for bread. A man's parents have a claim on him for obedience while he is a child. A man's uncles, aunts and cousins have no claim on him at all, except for help in necessity, which he can grant and they require. None—wife, children, parents, relatives—none has a claim to bar his judgment and his actions. Sound the conscience and sink the family! With a clear conscience, it is best to leave the family to its own debates. No man ever did brave work who held counsel with his family. The family view of a man's fit conduct is the weak point of the country. It's no other view than, better thy condition for our sakes. Ha! In this way we breed sheep, fatten oxen; men are dying off." —"Beauchamp's Career" by George Meredith.

GOOD ADVICE.

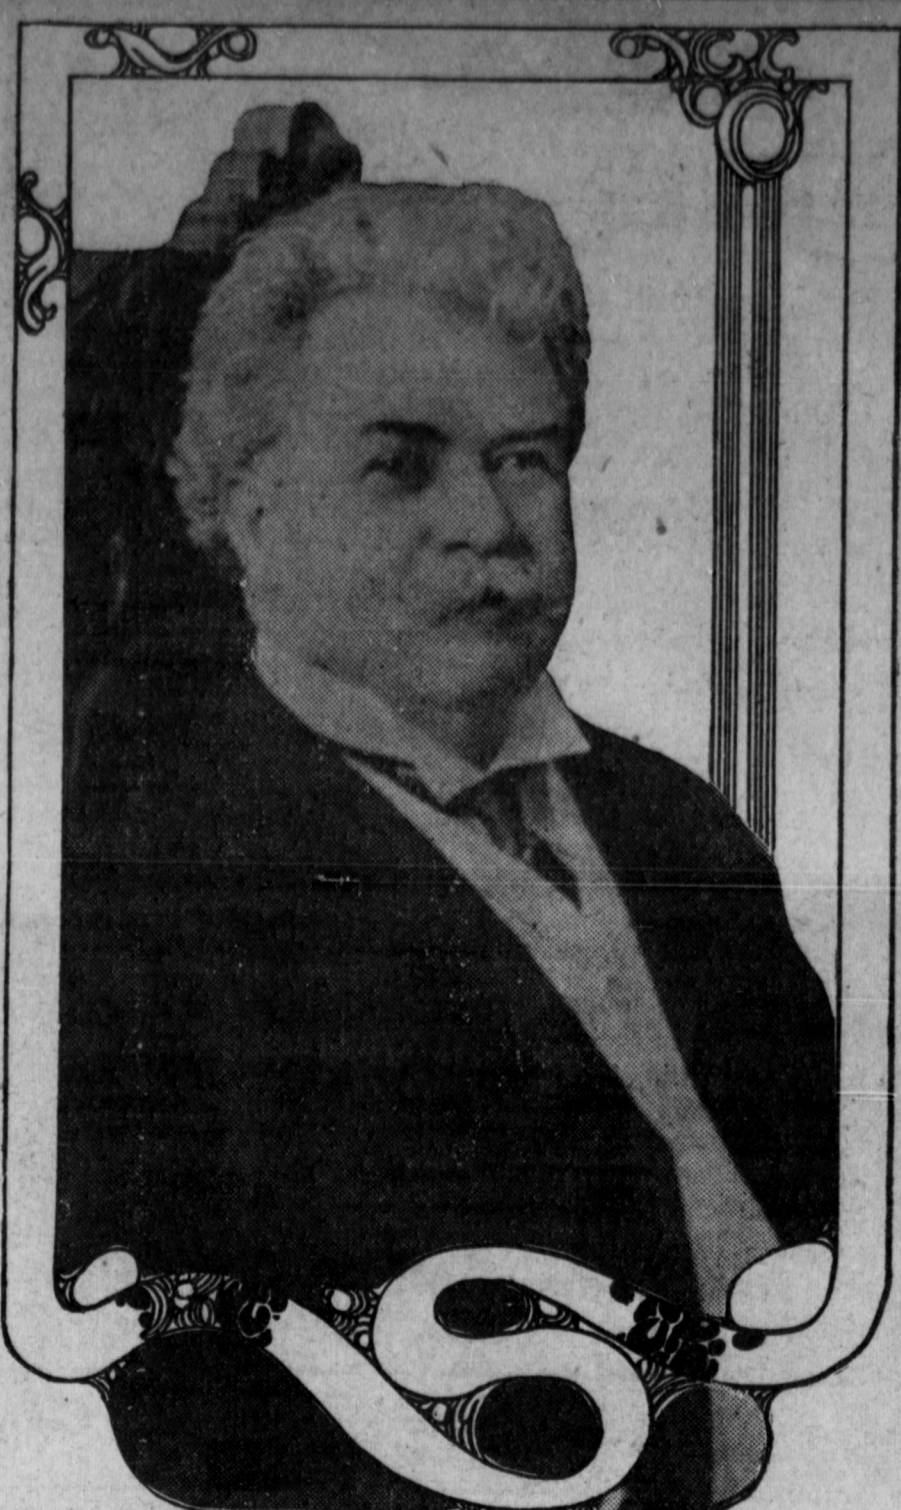

There are so few Sunny Jim situations that people finally tire of Sunny Jim philosophy. But there is one thing you can always do: make the best of every situation, and I beg you to do that, although so far as I am concerned, you needn't whistle nor sing, nor laugh, while about it; just grimly make the best of whatever confronts you. An optimist is a man who can transform bad news into good news; there are no real optimists except in newspaper and magazine articles written by young men.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

PROBABLY NO EXCEPTION.

"Jones has invented an airship."
"Then it's bound to be a success."
"Why so?"
"All his other schemes have gone up."

COMPLETING THE SIMILE.

"She has a flower-like face."
"And a stem-like figure in that tub gown."

HON. FRANK J. CANNON.

HON. FRANK J. CANNON, who is to appear on the Chautauquas this season as one of the leading speakers, was formally United States senator. He is a son of the first counselor of the Mormon church, George Q. Cannon. For years he has been fighting polygamy in the Mormon church. When the Mormons pledged themselves to do better he interceded for them with President Cleveland and saved them at a time when they were threatened with disfranchisement. He took a prominent part in the public affairs of the Mormons, all the time depending on their promises of reform. He opposed the election of Apostle Reed Smoot to the senate, and when Smoot was finally seated Cannon withdrew from Utah, believing that little more could be done at least for some time. He moved to Denver and joined the editorial staff of the Rocky Mountain News. He secured a leave of absence for the past winter to fill dates on the lyceum platform and in his lectures and by articles in Everybody's Magazine started a movement against the spread of Mormonism. The subject proved so interesting to audiences that he will hereafter give all his time to lecturing.

DON'T FORGET THIS

FOOD VALUE OF BUTTERMILK

According to Bulletin of Department of Agriculture It is Extremely High.

An ordinary glass of buttermilk contains about as much nutrient as two ounces of bread, a good sized potato or a half pint of oysters, says a recent bulletin of the United States department of agriculture. It thus contains about the same food constituents as skim milk, but it has an added hygienic value because the protein is more easily digested than the protein in skim milk, and therefore is often prescribed by physicians for children and invalids, especially those suffering from intestinal trouble.

Protein, being the most costly or food ingredients, is the one most likely to be lacking in inexpensive meals, and this is the nutrient which both skim milk and buttermilk supply in a cheap and useful form, and when taken with bread or used in cooking they form a very nutritious addition to the diet. Two and one-half quarts of skim milk or buttermilk contains about the same amount of protein as one pound of round steak, and costs about one-quarter as much. Two quarts of milk has a greater nutrient value than one quart of oysters. The nutrient in the form of oysters would cost 30 to 50 cents, while the skim milk or buttermilk would have a value on the farm of from two to four cents.

Circumstantial Evidence.

There was considerable chill in the air, and Sniffley didn't know whether it would be wise to begin a conversation with Mrs. Sniffley or not. Finally, however, the silence became too arctic for comfort, and he decided to risk it.

"Beautiful morning, my dear," he observed, as he lathered his chin.

"Don't you talk to me, Mr. Sniffley," retorted the lady. "I am disgusted with you. You needn't fool yourself into think I don't know in what condition you and Mr. Bagley came home last night. I overheard your conversation."

"Conversation!" said Sniffley. "What did I say?"

"You said you didn't know, when Mr. Bagley asked you which keyhole was the right one, and there's only one on the door!" said Mrs. Sniffley.

Still Possible.

In spite of the many associations, societies, guilds, bunds, organizations and clubs that exist in this country, it remains possible occasionally to find a man who has never had to learn parliamentary rules in order to act as a chairman.

JUDGE A. Z. BLAIR.

JUDGE A. Z. BLAIR, who is to be one of the leading speakers at the forthcoming Chautauqua, is now famous in all parts of the country as the judge from Adams county, O., who brought several hundred illegal voters to justice. In fact, some 2,000 citizens of Adams county who have heretofore indulged in selling their votes were disfranchised for a term of five years. Every paper in the country has printed columns about the affair, and magazines, including such prominent publications as the Review of Reviews, have also devoted lengthy articles to this subject and to the heroism and ability of Judge Blair. In speaking of him the editor of the Review of Reviews says, "There are traits of mind and character in Judge Blair that remind one of the patient and resolute, country lawyer of Illinois who fifty years ago was president elect and about to enter upon his great burden of national responsibility." Judge Blair is as great a power on the platform as on the bench.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. W. J. CLEMENT, & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Resolutions.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

"Your committee on resolutions would report to the convention the following resolutions, namely:

"Be it resolved, by the Democrats of Kentucky, in delegate convention assembled, regularly begun and held in Louisville, Kentucky, May 29, 1912, that

"First—As Americans, proud and jealous of our country's name and position among the nations of the world we deplore the humiliating contest now being waged by the president and ex-president of the United States for the Republican nomination.

"We congratulate the people of the nation upon the unity of purpose existing among the Democrats everywhere and the clear sign of approaching victory next November and the election then of a Democratic president and vice president and thereby restoring this government again to the people, and taking it from the trusts, monopolies and protected interests of the country.

"Second—We affirm our allegiance and devotion to the principles of our party as expressed in the series of national platform, and especially in the national platform adopted at Denver in 1908.

"Third—We indorse the Democratic record of the national house of representatives, and of Democratic senators in their effort to fulfill the Democratic promises and pledges made to the people.

"Fourth—The only justification for the levying of custom or other taxes is the raising of the necessary revenues for the economical conduct of the government, and we pledge our party to so revise the tariff laws; that the heavy burdens now imposed for the benefit of the special interests may be lifted from the shoulders of the great masses of our people. We denounce the Republican party for its failure to give such relief and especially for its enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

OPENING DAY BIG SUCCESS.

Kitty League Ball Season
Begins Auspicious Season.

WEATHER WAS FINE.

Great Crowd Was Present and Game Was Good
One.

The first game of the season of 1912 was played at Mercer Park yesterday afternoon with everything favorable. The weather was perfect, the diamond in the best of condition, a great crowd was present and the game was a fast one.

Clarksville was the foe and with one game each to their credit the teams both played in old-time style. There were but few formalities, as the crowd was impatient for ball. Many of the stores closed to let their employes attend.

The second game will be played this afternoon. The game for Sunday has not been placed yet.

"In addition to the repeal of the protective tariff laws which have created and fostered the trusts, we promise such legislation as may be necessary to strengthen existing anti-trust laws, and make certain the punishment of all those controlling and profiting by such unlawful combinations.

"Fifth—We with pleasure announce that we favor the nomination of one of Kentucky's native sons, the Hon. Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri, as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States and declare that he is worthy of the confidence and support of all Democrats and all other patriotic citizens.

"Sixth—The delegates-at-large, selected by this convention and the delegates from each and every congressional district of Kentucky are instructed to cast their votes as a unit in the approaching Baltimore convention for the nomination of the Hon. Champ Clark for president as long as his name shall be before that convention and to use all honorable effort to secure his nomination.

"Seventh—We heartily indorse the present able and progressive administration of our state under our officers, led by our distinguished governor, the Hon. James B. McCreary, and we indorse the fulfillment by the recent general assembly of the promises by our party in its state platform adopted in 1911.

"Eighth—In the interest of the farmer, the wage earner and business man, we favor an honest revision of our national banking and currency laws which will create a safe and elastic system, preserve the independent banks, prevent any dominant political or financial control and render recurring panics with their attendant loss and suffering, impossible."

The following district delegates to the national convention were selected, each delegation having two votes in the convention.

WOMAN SICK TWELVE YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know
How She Was Finally Restored to Health.

Louisiana, Mo.:—"I think a woman naturally dislikes to make her troubles known to the public, but complete restoration to health means so much to me that I cannot keep from telling mine for the sake of other suffering women."

"I had been sick about twelve years, and had eleven doctors. I had dragging down pains, pains at monthly periods, bilious spells, and was getting worse all the time. I would hardly get over one spell when I would be sick again. No tongue can tell what I suffered from cramps, and at times I could hardly walk. The doctors said I might die at one of those times, but I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got better right away. Your valuable medicine is worth more than mountains of gold to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA MUFF, 503 N. 4th Street, Louisiana, Mo.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Fred Jackson, who underwent an operation at Nashville two weeks ago, returned home yesterday well on the road to recovery.

TAKING IT TO THE PEOPLE

A GREAT deal is being said nowadays thruout this country about taking public problems direct to the people. This is what President Taft and Col. Roosevelt have been doing lately, and what all those interested in great public questions must do more and more as the years go by.

In the forthcoming Chautauqua here many important problems will be discussed. It is impossible for all the people in the United States to attend any one Chautauqua. The Chautauqua must be taken to the people eventually in nearly every county of the land where the population warrants it. The Redpath Bureau under whose direction the Chautauqua in this county is being given this year, is the greatest factor in the world today in this work of carrying a Chautauqua Program to the people. More than 250 Chautauquas are operated under Redpath management and the number is rapidly increasing.

Send word to all your friends to come to our forthcoming Chautauqua. Especially if they have never before attended a Chautauqua program, it will be a revelation to them.

RANDOLPH DADE

Alex Dade of the U. S. army and Mrs. Wm. A. Glass. He was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian church. The funeral will be held at his late home this afternoon and the interment will take place in the family burying ground.

Your Dollar Buys More

When you buy a Studebaker-E-M-F "30" or Studebaker-Flanders "20" you get more for your money, dollar for dollar, than in any other car built.

There may be other good cars—but what is their price? That's the rub. If they really are good cars, they necessarily cost more because comparatively few are built. Some poor cars, you know, are high priced too, so that the dealer can fool you by cutting the price. What a car is really worth, not what it costs, should be your standard.

The Studebaker Corporation has the largest and best automobile factories in the world. We could build and sell any competing car today for less money than its present price. In your Studebaker-E-M-F "30" or Flanders "20" you get full value, because the biggest factories and the best brains in the industry build these cars.

Studebaker-E-M-F "30" Touring Car, standard equipped, f.o.b. Detroit $1190. Equipped as above with Top, Windshield, Front-Drive Tank and Speedometer, f.o.b. Detroit $1190.

SNAKE CHARMERS OF OLD

Homer and Virgil Mention Them and Ancient Tablets Show the Tamed Serpents.

Snake taming is mentioned by Virgil, and Homer refers to the snake owned and specially favored by Ajax. That the Macedonians were on intimate terms with reptiles is shown by tablets bearing images of women feeding serpents. Other tablets show serpents twining around columns in the temple of Hercules, where they were placed by people in token of gratitude to the god.

The charlotts of Mnerva and Ceres were drawn by snakes and snakes guarded the altars of many of the gods. On a fragment of a Pompeian fresco a serpent is depicted coiled in a tree on a stretcher borne by two slaves.

The guardian serpent was the good fairy of the antique home and the watchful guard of the family honor. Even at the present time the Mexican peasants flock to Cocula from all the country round about to keep the feast day of St. Dominic, the saint who conferred on man the power to tame serpents. On St. Dominic's day snake-charmers appear in Cocula bearingadders and other reptiles. In Umbria the snake is supposed to possess the power of working miracles.—Harper's Weekly.

PAID WELL FOR HIS BOAST

Probably in the Future Dubleigh Will First Find Out Identity of His Listener.

"That's a durned fine-lookin' car o' yours, mister," said the old man with a chin whisker, as he inspected Dubleigh's motor standing in front of the Eagle House at Tugus.

"You bet it is," said Dubleigh. "I came over here from Watkins Corners this morning in just fifty-five minutes. Going some, eh?"

"Ya-as," said the old gentleman, stroking his whisker thoughtfully. "Kin ye prove it?"

"I have witnesses in my guests," said Dubleigh.

"Wal-al, I'll take yer word for it," said the stranger. "Jest fork over twenty-five, and we'll call it square. I'm jestice o' the Peace round here, and it'll save time to settle this here violation right now."—Harper's Weekly.

Herodotus a Muckraker.

Such as believe the tales of the Egyptians credible are free to accept them for history. For my own part, I propose to myself throughout my whole work faithfully to record the traditions of the several nations. The Egyptians maintain that Ceres and Bacchus preside in the realms below. They were also the first to broach the opinion that the soul of man is immortal, and that when the body dies it enters into the form of an animal which is born at the moment, thence passing on from one animal into another until it has circled through the forms of all the creatures which tenant the earth, the water and the air; after which it enters again a human frame, and is born anew. The whole period of the transmigration is (they say) three thousand years. There are Greek writers—some of an earlier, some of a later date—who have borrowed this doctrine from the Egyptians and put it forward as their own. I could mention their names, but I abstain from doing so.—Herodotus.

Horse Came Back.

A. H. Whitman, a Los Angeles (Cal.) jeweler, says that a cat may come back, also a horse. Whitman owned a horse for several years, and recently deciding that the animal had outlived its usefulness, he gave a young man $5 to take the equine into the country and shoot it.

He then decided that he must have a new steed, so inserted an advertisement in the newspapers. Among several answers, one especially appealed to him.

It stated that the writer possessed a gentle family horse, and gave a description which sounded good to the jeweler.

Accordingly, he journeyed to China, from which town the letter came, looked over the horse, and bought it. When he got the animal home he noticed something familiar in its actions, and upon closely examining the animal, found it to be the one he had paid to have shot.

Footpaths on Road to Peace.

To be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guideposts on the foot-path of peace.—Henry Van Dyke.

Helpless As a Baby.

Valley Heights, Va.—Mrs. Jennie B. Kirby, in a letter from this place, says: "I was sick in bed for nine months, with womanly troubles. I was so weak and helpless, at times, that I could not raise my head off the pillow. I commenced to take Cardui, and I saw it was helping me, at once. Now I work a'l day." As a tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found, for fifty years, that would take the place of Cardui. It will surely do you good. Cardui is prepared from vegetable ingredients and has a specific, curative effect on the womanly organs. Try a bottle today. At your druggist's.

MAKES NIGHT CLERK NERVOUS

Weird Stories Told by Guests in Early Morning Hours Prove a Little Disconcerting.

"Sometimes the night clerk's job has its drawbacks," remarked the tall, thin man behind the desk at the hotel. "These weird tales that guests will tell in the still night"—he went on, "they're one thing that makes a fellow wish there were more people around."

"One night about 2 o'clock, a guest came up to the desk and spent an hour telling me earnestly about the black cat that had been sitting on the foot of his bed. As he talked I noticed the fellow had a queer look in his eye."

"A black cat's nothing but a black cat, but somehow a fellow doesn't want to hear much about 'em' in the middle of the night from a nervous man with a queer look in his eye. This man said that the cat came in when the waiter brought his dinner up to the room. Then the cat took a chair at the table opposite him, he said, and tucked a napkin under its chin."

"I asked it if it didn't want something to eat," the man added, "but it said it didn't—politest cat I ever saw."

"Great line of talk, wasn't it?" "Then he started in to direct a lot of men building a skyscraper there in the lobby. I couldn't see the skyscraper, but he did. He had a force of about 400 men hoisting stone and steel, and he bossed the job."

WHEN THE STOMACH CALLS

Feeling Which Common Humanity Knows as Hunger Is Explained Fully by the Scientist.

The answer looks easy. Any small boy, schoolboy or other, would say, "Why, hunger is just wanting something to eat and wanting it bad." But the doctors find that it isn't so easy.

It seems, according to an ex-cathedra utterance in the Journal of the American Medical Association, that emptiness of the stomach has nothing to do with hunger. It is not due to the secretion of any sort of acid in the stomach, nor to congestion of the gastric glands. Professor Cannon, in this article in the journal aforesaid, attributes hunger to contractions of the stomach's muscular walls. In the doctor's words: "Hunger is normally the signal that the stomach is contracted for action; the unpleasantness of hunger leads to eating; eating starts gastric secretion, distends the contracted organ, initiates the movements of gastric digestion and abolishes the sensation." Here's to the abolition of the sensation; may there always be something with which to "start the gastric secretion!"

Mind and Muscle.

As the volume of controllable muscular and mechanical energy at his command has increased, man has found it necessary to use his own muscular energy for purposes of the control thereof, and even to supplement it for this purpose rather than to use it in the actual performance of the tasks themselves. Hence we have the large number of officials in the armies, organized both for warlike and peaceful purposes. In all of these, however, the dominating idea, so far, has been that of increasing the amount of muscular and mechanical energy controlled by one master mind. It is true that many individuals are employed in transmitting directions, in recording operations, etc.; but the central idea permeating everything is that the controlling individual is, or should be, able of himself to initiate every movement and make every decision relating thereto. It has always been a problem of supplementing muscle rather than of supplementing mind.—Cassier's Magazine.

Cook's Accidental Discovery.

One of the best ways of cooking potatoes was accidentally discovered through the unpunctuality of a train. When the line from Paris to St. Germain was opened the first train carried an official party for whom lunch was ordered.

The meal was fixed for noon, and shortly before that hour the potatoes were put on to fry. A few minutes afterward a message came that the train would probably be delayed for an hour, so the potatoes were taken off the fire, but left in the pan. Then came a second message. "Train just arriving," and the potatoes were hurriedly put back to fry again.

When the party sat down to lunch the potatoes were brought on with the steak. Each chip was then found to be blown out like a small, crisp, golden balloon, to the delight of the guests. The cook, without knowing it, had invented pommes de terre soufflées.

Care of the Eyes.

One of the most important things to consider in connection with caring for the eyes is the bath, and this should preferably be of rain or distilled water. A pinch of salt, well dissolved, adds value to an eye bath, and a most soothing wash, which is administered in a little eye-cup that fits over the open eye, is made by dissolving a level teaspoonful of pure boric acid in a quart of filtered or distilled water.

Boric acid must be dissolved in boiling water, and then added to the rest in a quart bottle. Although everybody knows that one eye may often have an ailment not shared by the other, few remember to refrain from using the same cup for both eyes without washing it after the first has been bathed.—Harper's Bazar.

JUST THE MAN HE WANTED

Edward D. Easton's Story of His Attempt to Hire a Typewriter in Southern Town.

Edward D. Easton, who claims that he made the largest single fee of any shorthand reporter in the world when he collected $75,000 from the lawyers in the famous Star Route trials, was sent to report an important hearing in a small southern town. The work was so pressing that he found he needed an assistant who could typewrite. Searching for such a person, he sent out messages, advertised in the country papers, and made desperate appeals for somebody to locate the man.

He waited at his hotel all day without a sign of an assistant, and went to bed that night extremely worried because his work depended absolutely on his getting some one to help him. Shortly after midnight he was aroused by a knock at the door.

"I am the man you want," said the stranger. "I am the only typewriter in this part of the state, and—"

"Well," exclaimed Easton eagerly, "can you come to work tomorrow morning?"

"I was going to tell you," continued the visitor, "that I read your advertisement saying you wanted a typewriter, and I thought I'd drop in to tell you I can't do the work. Lafe Smith and me have got to go fishing."—Popular Magazine.

Angry Passerby—Look here! Why don't you clean the mud off your sidewalk?

INTERVIEWING A PREACHER.

The pastor began by interviewing the little girl before he knew that she was doing something in that line herself.

"Are you a preacher?" she asked. "I am," he admitted.

"Preachers is good, ain't they?"

"Well, they are supposed to be."

"Are you?"

"I hope so."

"What do you do?"

"I try to make people better."

"Is that all?"

"Yes, that is enough. If I can do that I shall be sure of my reward."

"What reward?"

"Heaven."

"Where all the good ones go?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, but what'll you do for a livin' when you get there?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOOD SUBSTITUTE FOR COAL.

At one time a coal strike would have been little heeded in some of Britain's rural districts. Doctor Jessopp says that in his Norfolk parish, 70 years ago, "every field had its hedge hedges, with the 'doddlers' or pollards, which offered firing for rich and poor. This underwood, with the turf in the bog lands, which the women used to cut and store, and not infrequently pilfered and fought about, constituted absolutely the only fuel." One of his old parishioners told him that she "never saw coal till after I was married, and I never burnt any till my second husband bade me bring some from Dereham. We used to bring it tied up in a bundle and carry it on our heads."

AUTO POPULAR IN SIAM.

In a recent automobile parade in Bangkok there were more than one hundred fine cars. You can see more motor boats on the Menam river than you will find on the Hudson. Wealthy men use autos and motor boats now where not so long ago they traveled in palanquins and dhows. Last year there was an aviation meet in Bangkok.

Just Half In Bed.

Clyde, Ky.—Mrs. I. A. Decker: "I recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic, to any woman in need of a remedy. For five years, I was unable to do my own work. Half my time was spent in bed. At last I tried Cardui. Now I am well and happy, and can do my own work." Don't suffer from pain, headache, backache, and other womanly miseries, when your own druggist has on his shelf a remedy for such troubles—Cardui. Get a bottle for your shelf. As a general tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found for 50 years that would take its place. Try it. It will help you.

CANDY BOXES ARE EXCEPTED

Lesson Which the Little Boy Drew from the Old Story of Pandora's Mistake.

Detroit two and a half years old is just a little overfond of prying into whatever box or bundle he may happen to find about. It worries his grandmother; she doesn't like to see little boys so curious. So the other day she took out the big, bright-colored book of Hawthorne's wonder stories and showed the little boy the picture of Pandora. The way Hawthorne tells the story, you know, Pandora was a naughty, curious little girl, and she opened the box that held all the troubles in the world, and they flew out in a horrid, buzzy swarm and stung Pandora and Epimetheus, and ever since that the world has been full of troubles. The picture showed the swarm of trouble-imps flying out of the box and stinging poor Pandora, ever so hard.

"And so, you see," grandmother finished, "it's a very dreadful thing for little boys or girls to open boxes that don't belong to them, because they never can tell what's hiding in the boxes."

The boy was impressed by the story; he thought it over for quite a while, slowly, seriously. Then he looked up brightly and amended: "Little boys must never open boxes, must they, 'gammudder'—ceptin' when they're candy boxes."

THEY TAKE A LOT OFF

Hoax—What do you think of this Salome dance, the dance of the "Seven Veils?"

Joax—A pretty good take-off.

KNOW YOURSELF.

There is something that a man can do thoroughly well. It should be the first business of his life to find out what that something is. One man may have a talent for mathematics, another for mechanic arts, a third for commercial pursuits. But if all were to insist upon keeping books there would be no books to keep.

It is a great waste of time to attempt the impossible. Genius is often judgment. The enthusiastic brother who dreamed that he saw the letters G. P. C. written upon the sky believed that it was a divine call to him to "Go preach Christ." But, after his dreary sermons had driven away the congregation he concluded that the letters meant "Go plant corn."—Los Angeles Times.

PIKE 267 YEARS OLD.

The pike is a fish for which now there is little demand. Yet Edward I., who regulated the prices of different fish, that his subjects might not be at the mercy of the venders, fixed the value of pike higher than fresh salmon and at more than ten times that of the best turbot. Pike are supposed to live longer than any other fish in spite of their former popularity as food. Gesner relates that in 1497 a pike was caught in Swabia with a ring attached, inscribed, "I was first put into this lake by the hands of the governor of the universe, Frederick II., October 5, 1290." This is the fish's story.—London Chronicle.

The delay of one day in the opening of the Kitty baseball league due to rain preventing all games Tuesday did not dampen the enthusiasm of the fans, and the teams were greeted at each place by record-breaking crowds Wednesday, and the season was opened with the parades and ceremonies [that had been arranged for the day before. The teams responded by giving fine exhibitions of the game.

Bethel College Commencement.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the four classes of Bethel College will hold their annual class Day Exercises. This is the one program during commencement week in which nothing serious will be undertaken.

The class history, prophecy and poem will be read by their respective authors; the class Grouch will present her grumbles and gifts characteristic of the idiosyncracies of the various seniors will be presented to a number of the class.

On Sunday morning Rev. S. E. Tull of Paducah will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon at the church. High School Department will hold its commencement exercises at the church on Monday night. An address will be delivered by Rev. J. E. Madsonville. On Tuesday day night at the church there will be held the regular College Commencement. The address will be made by Rev. M. B. Adams who will speak on the needs of Women's Education in Kentucky.

The public is invited to all of these exercises. The number of graduates is the largest for many years, there being six from the college, nine from the High School Department and one from the music department.

The recital at the college Thursday night was a rare musical treat. All of the young ladies taking part acquitted themselves most creditably.

The senior class reception at the college was a delightful event last night.

Alumnae Association.

A meeting of the Bethel College Alumnae Association will be held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. A musical program will be followed by an address. Out of town members will be entertained.
